

Cell Signalling and its Therapeutic Implications

Guest Speakers

Derek Mann (Newcastle, UK)

Jen Morton (Glasgow, UK)

Manolis Pasparakis (Cologne, Germany)

Andrew Cox

Phil Darcy

Matthias Ernst

Mark Febbraio

Paul Hertzog

Fabienne Mackay

Ashley Mansell

Shaun McColl

Sandra Nicholson

Meredith O'Keeffe

Belinda Parker

Marc Pellegrini

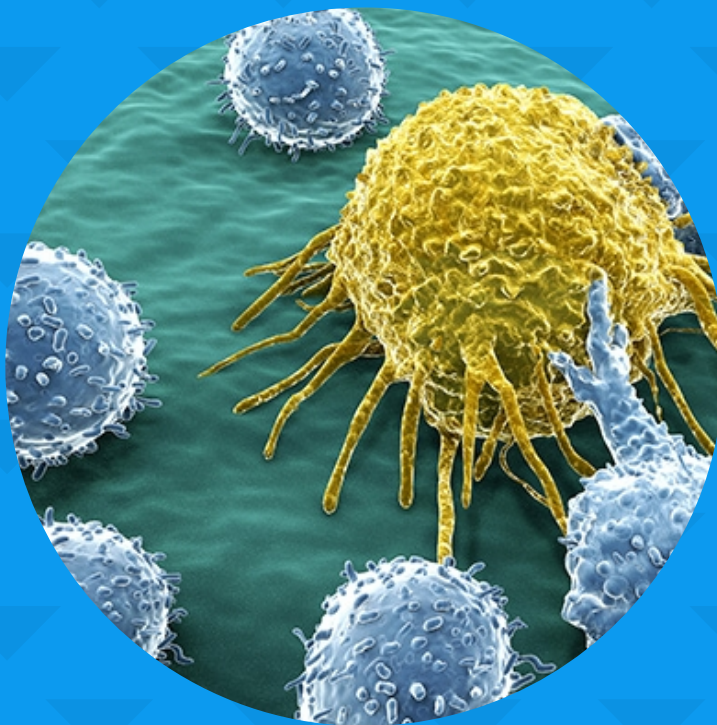

John Silke

Erica Sloan

Kate Stacey

Joe Trapani

Colby Zaph

May 17-19, 2017

Mornington, VIC

Cell Signalling and its Therapeutic Implications 2017, or CSTI-2017, will be held at the Cape Schanck Resort in the Mornington Peninsula, Victoria, Australia

This symposium will focus on the interface between inflammatory signalling and cellular metabolism, cell death, autoimmunity, cancer, and how discoveries in these areas can lead to the identification of novel therapeutic targets and biomarkers.

Registration is $450 (AUD), or $400 (AUD) for students and includes:

- Dinner after the Martin Lackmann Medal plenary talk on Wednesday night
- Breakfast and lunch on Thursday and Friday
- BBQ dinner on Thursday night
- Free WiFi throughout the conference venue

Transportation to and from the airport, and Melbourne University will be available.

Accommodation can be booked separately though the RACV Cape Schanck Resort.

Register at www.csti.com.au/register today

Abstract Submission Open Now!

There will be a poster session with prizes on the Thursday afternoon. Several slots will be reserved for short talks that will be selected from submitted abstracts. Abstract submission is open now at www.csti.com.au/abstract

